

Lysohorská běžecká magistrála (Lysá Mountain Cross-Country Skiing Arterial)

Route description

Dust off your cross-country skis for a trip along the highest trail in the Moravian-Silesian Beskydy Mountains

You can ski all the way to Lysá Mountain, the highest peak of the Beskydy Mountains. At 1,324 metres above sea level, you can look forward to gorgeous views and long-lasting snow cover. The best place to access the cross-country trail is at the Hotel Petr Bezruč, where there is a large car park as well as a bus stop, or from the Rajská bouda hotel, which also has a large car park and a bus stop. And off you go!
