

Golf Beřovice

Resort description

Golf resort Beřovice is situated in a village called Beřovice, only 7 km from the royal town of Slaný and 20 km from Kladno. This championship 18-hole 72 par golf course was designed by famous Austrian architect Hans-Georg Erhardt.

This golf course is precisely modelled in original terrain. It offers man-made water areas, deep bunkers and other artificial and natural obstacles. The golf resort is naturally divided in two parts by the valley of Bakovský brook. Each part has 9 holes and with good weather conditions and visibility, players can enjoy the view of Říp mountain and České středohoří mountain range. Each hole is equipped by 5 tees, so that all players can choose optimal difficulty according to their personal skills and experience. The golf course is used for official performance competitions of the Czech Golfing federation and Czech Pro-Am Teaching Tour championships. In the resort there is also a 9-hole academic course open to non green card holders as well. Golf resort Beřovice offers a wide range of training programmes and enough training areas. As a part of the resort, all visitors can use a clubhouse with a restaurant, a professional shop with golfing equipment, a rental shop with clubs, trolleys and buggies. An indoor hall with Full Swing Golf simulators is at all visitors' disposal.
